

Application for UK Floristry Judge's Training:

Please complete the application form below, in as much detail as possible, to apply for the UK Floristry Judges Guild training programme. The purpose of the application form is to determine that the candidate has the relevant skills, competences, and attributes to be a judge in the first instance.

It is advisable that you read the document entitled 'Your Questions Answered' when completing your application, found on the UK Floristry Judges Guild website.

Please return the application by email to training@floristryjudgesguild.co.uk

The deadline for receipt of applications is 5th March 2023.

On receipt of your application, you will be invited to the induction day when you will be given more details of the training and you will have time to ask any questions about the programme. You will also be asked to bring photographs of your work and evidence of your qualifications. You will then be invited to join the training programme.

Candidates will need to supply a portfolio as part of the assessment procedure to become a UK National Floristry Judge. Your application form will be included in your portfolio, once you have been accepted onto the Floristry Judges Guild Training programme and will form section 1 and 2 of your final portfolio.

Data Protection:

All information provided in the application form will remain confidential and only shared with the UK Floristry Judges Guild Training Committee. By providing the information contained within this application form, you are consenting to its use for the purpose of processing your application and assessing your performance in the future (should your application be successful). We reserve the right to validate all information entered onto this form.
